Session 1

* Church Planting in a Challenging Culture

40 - 50 years ago there was social pressure to be connected to a church. Today there is social pressure to not be associated with church. Consequently, the church has hunkered down in our relative foxhole, content to throw an occasional salvo at the culture, but rarely engaging it with the grace and truth of the gospel.

Session 2

* Church Planting for the Kingdom of God

God's mission for His church is to advance the coming Kingdom, not to expand our brand of church, denomination or tradition. This requires a new understanding of what it means to be contextual, incarnational, and missional.

Session 3

* Church Planting as a Presbytery Movement

Church planting in this challenging culture for the Kingdom of God is not a call for a few brave souls, but a call for every church to be involved, either as a parent, a partner or a patron. We will hear from a panel of representatives from each of these options.

Session 4

* Panel Discussion with Q and A

A time to honestly address the common objections to why we don't plant churches and to learn about taking next steps.
